

PENNSYLVANIA
circa 1763

- Pennsylvania
- British land
- Colony boundary
- County boundary

BUCKS County name

- Town
- Fort
- Battle

miles

0 50 100

The Proclamation Line of 1763 prohibited people from settling west of the Appalachians. Most of Pennsylvania's population lived in Philadelphia and surrounding counties. The Delaware Counties, which were governed by Pennsylvania, gave the colony vital trade access to the Atlantic Ocean.